

January 2008

New S360 Version:

We are releasing a new version of Scholar360.

- » It has a new look and feel, but is still easy to use and learn.
- » It has several new features that clients have requested.

Watch for our invitation to register for a online training session soon.

2007 Was a Year of Great Growth

We are delighted to let you know that we have grown over 300% in the past year! 2007 was a great year for us—it saw the addition of several new team members at Scholar360 and many improvements to the software.

We added several new clients including:

- UNESCO - United Nations
- Aristotle University College of Law - our very first law school
- Cleveland Clinic Health System - our very first nursing school

Thank you for participating with us as we change the face of online education. You are vital to our growth and success. ☆

If you would like more information, please contact Cathy Garland at 866-458-0360 x. 404.

Thomas Gionis

We Need You!

We're compiling references from professors at our schools. Often times we encounter professors who are worried that learning an LMS/CMS (Learner Management System/Course Management System) is going to be too difficult or time-consuming.

We'd like to share your experiences—good and bad—with these professors so they can understand what might be facing them as they implement an LMS/CMS like Scholar360.

Please send all comments and references to cathy@scholar360.com. Or call 866-458-0360 to share them with our staff members. ☆

WIN!
WIN!
WIN!

If you can find your name hidden obviously within this newsletter, we'll send you a $25 gift certificate to Amazon.com!

Spotlight on Client

Adler School of Professional Psychology (www.adler.edu) is one of Scholar360's first clients. They have one campus in Chicago and another in Vancouver, BC.

Adler does not use Scholar360 for online courses at this time, but plans to implement them in the future. For now, the professors use it to enhance their courses and students use it to network and collaborate.

"We are most proud of the fact that our students and faculty are communicating effectively in ways we only hoped was possible." -Joel Pomeroy, VP of Finance & IT